HOW THE FAIRY TALE FAD CAN HELP YOUR BUSINESS

We never get tired of it we read them, watch them, listen to them and tell them every day of our lives. We even tell them to ourselves.

And as a business manager one should try tapping into this national fad for fairy tales because wrapping your messages in a story will almost guarantee that your listeners will hear, understand, and remember your ideas.

- Use stories to structure presentations—The basic structure of a story is three acts: the set-up, the development, and the resolution.
- Add suspense to spark interest—You can set up an expectation for your listeners, an expectation that doesn't happen. Surprising, and creates suspense.
- Use a question to engage

In business, we tell stories to make a broad point more specific and concrete, or to reveal who we are so we can connect. This is a great way to communicate about dry data. Build a theme--or story--around the whys, when, hows, etc. of the data. That will help your listeners grasp what all those numbers, graphs, and charts mean.

"NOW THIS IS THE LAW OF THE JUNGLE, AS OLD AND AS TRUE AS THE SKY, AND THE WOLF THAT SHALL KEEP IT MAY PROSPER, BUT THE WOLF THAT SHALL BREAK IT MUST DIE. AS THE CREEPER THAT GIRDLES THE TREE TRUNK, THE LAW RUNNETH FORWARD AND BACK; FOR THE STRENGTH OF THE PACK IS THE WOLF, AND THE STRENGTH OF THE WOLF IS THE PACK.— Mowgli
